MEMORANDUM FOR: Major General Lincoln D. Faurer, USAF
Deputy Director for Intelligence
Defense Intelligence Agency

SUBJECT : CIA Representative at Proposed NMCC/NMIC Operations
Center

REFERENCE : Your memo (U-1022/DI-1D) same subject, dated 7 Mar 1975

1. Mr. Colby has asked me to reply to your memorandum of 7 March. I share your desire to stay in close contact regarding the appropriate CIA representation when the NMCC and the NMIC are collocated in October 1976. As you may know, the Agency already has a staff of watch officers at the NMCC, and last fall we augmented that representation by the temporary assignment of an experienced analyst from the CIA Operations Center, [redacted] to determine what other equities we may have in this context.

2. It is somewhat early to commit ourselves on the staffing we would propose when this collocation becomes a reality. My initial judgment, however, is that one CIA unit, perhaps augmented somewhat, could jointly serve our interests with respect to both the NMCC and the NMIC.

STATINTL

3. To examine these and related questions, I plan to return [redacted] to the staff of Rear Admiral Coughlin in June after he completes the current session of the Armed Forces Staff College. Given [redacted] familiarity with the O/JCS/NMCC environment, I believe he would be the most appropriate contact point for [redacted]

TO: Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C. 20505

SUBJECT: Intelligence Community Representation in the 1976 National Military Intelligence Center

1. As part of its efforts to improve Department of Defense support to crisis management, the Defense Intelligence Agency is in the process of modernizing the National Military Intelligence Center (NMIC) and relocating it adjacent to the National Military Command Center. Collocation of the prime military intelligence and operations centers within one facility will make this the single point of contact for military aspects of day-to-day, as well as time-sensitive crisis management issues. This improved and collocated facility will have a significantly increased capability to rapidly process all-source intelligence, providing a composite military picture to Joint Chiefs of Staff, Department of Defense and the National Command Authorities. Optimum exploitation of this all-source intelligence could be achieved by the NMIC with a full-time representative from your agency.

2. Facility and equipment plans for the modernized NMIC currently provide dedicated automated analyst stations for the intelligence representatives from the State Department, CIA and NSA. The Initial Operating Capability for the new center is projected for October 1976, however final equipment requirements and refined concepts of operation must be completed in the immediate future.

3. Request that you identify a point of contact to discuss issues relative to your representation in the new NMIC. The Defense Intelligence Agency point of contact is
